

Application for Class August 6th-10th, 2012
“The Theater Experience” – Summer 2012 Theatrical Master Class
With Eben Brown and Ian Burnette

This is a one-week, four hour-per-day intensive workshop class that will help participants to hone their skills in the following areas: writing, collaboration, directing, and acting. Everyone will get to write a small show, workshop it, and direct it, as well as getting the chance to act in someone else’s show - that’s why we call it “the theater experience!” The class will take place at the Loch Lyme Lodge in Lyme, N.H., from August 6th to August 10th, from 10:00AM-2:00PM daily, with final performances on Friday evening. The cost of the camp is $200.*

Please fill out the following information sheet so that we know a bit more about you. We want parent information just so we can double-check information with them. Please note that we’ll be limiting the class to only ten participants, so put a little bit of thought into the paragraph below.

The deadline for applying is April 1, 2012. Positions will be filled by the first ten qualified applicants. All qualified applicants after this will be placed on the waiting list. We really want to work with you and we really want to give you a chance to showcase your talents.

Email completed sheets or questions to Ian Burnette at: ian_burnette@yahoo.com OR Mail completed sheets to Eben Brown at: 1097 North Dorchester Rd, Dorchester NH 02366

Name: _____ Age: _____

Parent/Guardian Name and preferred contact info: _____

Optional Reference Name and contact info (could be a teacher, drama instructor, family friend, etc. that we’ll get in contact with to learn a little bit more about you).

Finally, please write a paragraph about what you like about creating. This is very open; it could be about why you like writing, creating characters, creating dramatic performances, etc. This is to give us an insight into what you’re passionate about doing (feel free to continue on the back if you’re submitting a hard copy).

* Scholarships may be offered for applicants with need. Just ask us!
